APPENDIX

VERSION WITH MARKINGS TO SHOW CHANGES MADE

7. (Amended) The method of claim 1, wherein a value of said interpolating pixel is determined as an interior pixel value if the [probable] probability value for the interior is more than that for the exterior in said context probability template [probable value] of said interpolating pixel, and is determined as an exterior pixel value if the probability [probable] value for the exterior pixel is more than that for the interior therein.